Discussion/Possible Action: Navy Update

- Legislative Update
 - Captain Shane Tanner introduced Mr. Karnig Ohannessian, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Environment and Mission Readiness, to the committee.
 - Mr. Ohannessian provided a status update on the legislative activities for the Fallon Range Training Complex (FRTC) modernization proposal. The Navy has submitted a legislative proposal to modernize the FRTC for the fiscal year 2023 National Defense Authorization Act. Mr. Ohannessian noted that, at the Nevada Congressional delegation's request, the Office of Management and Budget has taken the unprecedented step of including the Congressional delegation in the discussion of the administration's legislative proposal prior to transmitting to Congress. Mr. Ohannessian stated that the Navy is supportive of mitigation measures and is mindful of the potential unintended consequences of modernization. He acknowledged there are still hard issues to work through, but the Navy remains committed to working with Tribes and stakeholders to find win-win solutions for both the Navy and Northern Nevada.

- Questions/Comments
 - Mr. Jim Lawrence, Acting Director of the Nevada Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, asked if there was anything that the IEC, his Department, or the State could do to facilitate getting agreements in place, to which Mr. Ohannessian replied that there is nothing specific or additional at this time except to continue with their work and involvement.
 - Vice-Chair Olsen read a written statement on behalf of Churchill County. The County expressed that they are opposed to the Navy's legislative proposal, which they feel does not include key provisions for minimization and mitigation of impacts. The County added that they support the amendments developed and offered by the Nevada delegation.
 - Mr. Goicoechea subsequently asked about the timeline and if the Navy was going to re-engage with Churchill County and local governments more, noting the importance of early-on coordination and involvement.
- Cultural Resources Survey Update
 - Mr. Mike Baskerville, Archaeologist, NASF, updated the IEC on the cultural resources surveys on the NASF ranges, the new Programmatic Agreement (PA), and the new Integrated Cultural Resources Management Program (ICRMP).
 - B-20: The Navy is in the process of inventorying 18,000 acres in the proposed B-20 range expansion area. Crews have completed surveys of approximately 56,000 acres of B-20 to date. Each field crew has a minimum of one Tribal archaeological technician assigned to them. Typically, there are three to five technicians on each rotation. The southwest corner of the inventory area is still flooded and will hopefully be accessible by the end of the summer. The inventory is expected to take two years.
 - B-16: This range inventory was 100% inventoried as part of the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) process. Those inventories covered approximately 22,538 acres and documented or re-documented approximately 375 cultural properties. Inventories associated with construction of the B-16 boundary fence have been completed. The Navy is in the process of consulting on the effects of that fence with local Tribal representatives as well as the State.
 - B-17: Approximately 12,389 acres of B-17 were surveyed as part of the EIS process. Those inventories documented or re-documented 511 cultural properties. New inventories are being planned for B-17. The Navy sent out a draft work plan to Tribes and is in the process of receiving comments, which will then be incorporated into the plan.
 - PA: A new PA is being developed and is expected to be shared with Tribes in September 2022.
 - ICRMP: Development of a new ICRMP is being planned and will begin once the outcome of the modernization legislation is determined.
 - IEC members had no questions for Mr. Baskerville.
- Tribal Engagement Update
 - Ms. Kish LaPierre, Tribal Liaison, NASF, provided an update on Tribal engagement.

- Ms. Pierre showed a map of the 13 federally recognized Tribes in Northwest Nevada with whom the Navy consults and that may be directly or indirectly affected by activities of NASF.
- The Navy has initiated studies within the area of potential effect with respect to proposed expansion, including archaeological pedestrian surveys and ethnographic studies. Some of these studies will focus on known culturally important sites significant to Tribes and areas that have not yet been inventoried. The Navy has committed to identifying these important locations and studying them in conjunction with Tribal partners and involvement.
- The Final Draft MOA for Tribal access was emailed to Tribal partners on March 18, and mailed on March 21, 2022, for review and signature. Tribal partners are reviewing the MOA.
- Far Western, the contractor for the archaeological and ethnographic studies, has obtained considerable Tribal participation in the studies. Studies will resume in September.
- The Navy has committed to protecting burials in areas where a burial probability is at an increased risk. The Navy is kicking off a Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) study with Tribes with regards to two sets of human remains housed at the Nevada State Museum in Carson City.
- Upcoming B-17 archaeological studies will be kicking off with Tribal cultural experts in the field. Tribes are encouraged to comment on the work plan (as mentioned by Mr. Baskerville).
- The Navy received considerable input from Tribes on the Wildland Fire Management Plan. The Navy incorporated Tribal perspectives and issues, and a revised final draft will be distributed to all Tribes.
- Several archaeological sites were identified during the archaeological surveys for the B-16 fence project. Tribal consultation is ongoing and field visits have been completed. The Walker River Paiute Tribe offered the Navy a mitigation plan, which will be incorporated into the final report. Ms. Pierre thanked Tribes for participating in those efforts as well as consultation efforts with the State Historic Preservation Office.
- For the Off-Range Ordnance project, the Walker River Paiute Tribe is currently reviewing and commenting on the Preliminary Assessment Draft Report and the Munitions Response Site Prioritization Protocol.
- State Route 361 proposed realignment is a topic of concern to the Yomba Shoshone Tribe due to the proximity to their reservation. Captain Tanner visited the Tribe on July 6, 2022, to discuss the proposed road realignment. The Navy will continue to consult with Tribes on this proposal.
- Captain Tanner, the new commanding officer at NASF, is working on meeting with all 13 Tribes with whom NASF consults. He is committed to working with the Tribes.
- Questions/Comments
 - IEC members had no questions for Ms. LaPierre.
